

ISSUES ONLINE

The library subscribes to Issues Online. The website and matching books provide information on social issues, topics that might be used for discursive essays or solo talks. Each topic contains a wide range of current information from websites, magazines, lobby-group literature, statistics and government reports.

It's time saving:

Why spend hours trawling the web when Issues Online provides articles, statistics and links at your fingertips?

Key facts - is a section that gives a snapshot of key facts on over 60 topics with links to the original articles for further information.

Research Guide - gives links to useful websites.

Topic examples

Abortion
Animal Welfare
Bullying
Climate Change

EVALUATING WEBSITES

When using the internet you have to remember that anybody can create a website and nobody checks to see if it is true. You have to check it out as best you can for yourself. Find out this information from the home page of the website. Use the website STAR to help you!